

RABIES vaccine protects against a deadly virus that is contagious to humans

The rabies virus is very serious and always fatal. Rabies can be passed between all species of mammals, including humans and is transmitted through the saliva and mucous membranes of infected animals. Depending on your geographic area the Rabies vaccine may be given at 12 or 16 weeks of age. The vaccine is then boosted every 1 to 3 years there after depending on your geographic location.